Q: What happens if I have technical difficulties watching or hearing a Webinar? You can transfer the tuition paid to another Webinar within two years or request a recording within 3 to 5 days to complete the webinar ASAP for live credit.

Q: My profession is not listed on the brochure. Is it possible to obtain continuing-education credit? Possibly. Please contact INR's customer-service office at 1-877 246-6336 or by email at info@biocorp.com. The customer-service office can tell you if INR has approval for your profession.

COURSE SUMMARY

Domestic violence (also called family violence, interpersonal violence, or intimate partner violence) is a pattern of assaultive and coercive behaviors, including physical, sexual, and psychological attacks, as well as economic coercion, that adults or adolescents use against their intimate partners. The violence can happen all the time or only occasionally. Partners may be married or not, heterosexual, gay or lesbian; living together, separated, or dating. It crosses the boundaries of all ages, socio-economic statuses, religions, races, ethnicities, and nationalities. This course also discusses the challenges victims face in the Covid-19 pandemic. This continuing education activity will review the indicators of violence, community stakeholders, and their important roles when violence occurs along with resources to care and support victims of violence. Lastly, this course can be used to develop or extend your institution's response, policy, procedure, or protocol to intimate violence.

Disclaimer: These live interactive INR presentations provide continuing education for health care and mental health professionals with the understanding that each participant is responsible to utilize the information gained in an appropriate manner congruent with his/her/their scope of licenses.
