Q: How will I know that my profession qualifies for continuing education credit? Please see the section marked Accreditation. All professions for which INR (Institute for Natural Resources) has approval are listed in the Accreditation section.

Q: What happens if I have technical difficulties watching or hearing a Webinar? You can transfer the tuition paid to another Webinar within two years or request a recording within 3 to 5 days to complete the webinar ASAP for live credit.

Q: My profession is not listed on the brochure. Is it possible to obtain continuing-education credit? Possibly. Please contact INR's customer-service office at 1-877 246-6336 or by email at info@biocorp.com. The customer-service office can tell you if INR has approval for your profession.

COURSE SUMMARY

This webinar is presented to educate healthcare and mental healthcare clinicians on the characteristics of individuals with criminal behavior called psychopaths who live among us and can pose significant threats to the professional and private lives of health and mental health professionals. Psychopaths are social predators with no conscience or remorse who charm, manipulate, and ruthlessly plow their way through life, leaving behind them a broad trail of broken hearts, shattered expectations, and empty wallets. Participants will learn how to identify the psychopathic predator career criminals who inflict tremendous damage to others but are often undetected and seen as being "normal" and "charming." Several psychopaths will be described along with their common personality-based core beliefs, thinking patterns, emotional processing, and antisocial behaviors that characterize the Psychopathic Personality. Participants will also learn how to discriminate psychopaths from sociopaths and how these individuals differ from many who have a diagnosis of Antisocial Personality Disorder.

Dr. Howard will explain why psychopathic criminals are not legally insane and why they do not qualify to be found not guilty by reason of insanity in criminal courts when they commit crimes. The major theoretical models of psychopathy will be presented along with the tests that can identify psychopaths. Participants will learn the differences between psychopathic criminal offenders and non-criminal individuals with some psychopathic traits who may become successful in some areas of life. Attendees will also learn about the effectiveness of rehabilitating psychopaths and which treatment models have the greatest success. The relationship of psychopathy to some rare and extreme levels of interpersonal violent behavior such as mass/school/spree shootings and serial murders will be explained. Finally, at the conclusion of the program, there will be an optional presentation (without CE) describing case histories of some rare individuals who have become psychopathic serial killers for those who desire to attend.

Disclaimer: These live interactive INR presentations provide continuing education for health care and mental health professionals with the understanding that each participant is responsible to utilize the information gained in an appropriate manner congruent with his/her/their scope of licenses. Furthermore, the contents of these presentations are relevant to graduate level counselors; The presenter teaching the program has an advanced degree in the mental health field.
